Hogs, Bacon, Hams, Lard. We have often called attention to different articles of agricultural produce with the hope that more of the attention of our farmers would be given to agriculture, with the object of benefiting themselves, and at the same time enriching the country, by keeping within it the money that we now send abroad for what we can produce as well at home. Hogs, hams, bacon, and lard, are commodities for which there is, and always will be, a large and ready sale; and we call the modities for which there is, and always will be, a large and ready sale; and we call the attention of our farmers to them, with such facts for their information as can leave no doubts in their minds that those who grow them will find it a profitable branch of industry. There were imported last year from San Francisco, Portland, Port Townsend, and Honolulu:

2907 sacks Bacon, value $57,395
298 " Hams. " 5,599
633 " Lard. " 11,973
633 " Hogs. " 5,630

Let any farmer reflect that $80,576 were sent abroad last year for hogs, hams, lard and bacon, without including commissions, freight, and incidental expenses, and he cannot but come to the conclusion that the inducements in both colonies for engaging in hog-raising are of the most flattering kind. Of all domestic animals none are so easily raised. In our climate for the greater part of the season they will find their own living. All that is necessary is to herd them in spring and summer; in the fall they can be fattened on potatoes and grass, and turned to hams, lard, and bacon. No climate is more favorable for making salt pork or bacon than this. The temperature is cool and with proper care no loss need be iccurred through the meat spoiling. In California, from whence we draw the largest quantity to bacon than this. The temperature is contained the conclusion of the conclusio ties to California and these colonies; but the increase of her population this spring will render her dependent partially on the San Francisco market. Even Washington Territory has sent us some bacon and a large number of hogs. Honolulu has also exported hither some hogs. With a climate and natural advantages evey way equal to Washington Territory and Oregon, nothing supervence to prevent our farmers sundving and natural availatings every any expansion washington Territory and Oregon, nothing supervenes to prevent our farmers supplying the demand in both colonies but the want of energy, or the lack of capital. If there be energy, but a very small amount of capital is required. A little patience and a few breeding sows, a hog raiser will find himself at the end of a year with a large drove of hogs, and on the high road to fortune. We only know one farmer in this colony who has gone largely into hog-raising; and he assured us that he knows no department of agriculture in which the returns are so rapid or so great. In British Columbia we know of no one who is extensively engaged in the business. The entire field may be said to be wholly unoccupied, notwithstanding that five hundred dollars invested either on this Island anywhere or in the interior of the sister Colony, would at invested either on this Island anywhere or in the interior of the sister Colony, would at the end of two years make any man's fortune. Fresh and salt pork, bacon, lard and hams will always command a high price, and bring the ready cash. We may fairly assume that the $80,576 paid for hogs, bacon, etc., last year, when sold in our market, let alone in the mines or on the way there, realised $100,000. That sum would have returned $1000 to each one of a hundred farmers, which in itself would have been a very handsome return from one article of farm produce. If fifty farmers had had the entire supply, there would have been $2000 a-piece—a small fortune in itself for a product man. We have long deemed it unaccountable how it is that more attention is not devoted to hog-raising. Men who are thoroughly qualified to be successful in such business with ample capital, prefer to engage in a less certain occupation, simply because the interior of the sister Colony, would at in a less certain occupation, simply because it promises to yield a more speedy return. Whereas, the experience of all gold countries proves conclusively that any one who will engage in any regular business-in the sale or production of any staple commodity—al-most universally acquires a fortune; whilst the rolling stone, or the individual who

Every night—perhaps every morning, more properly speaking—the money capital of the concern was locked up in a safe in the institution, and when "business" commenced Bundy was always on hand to "open the bank." On Thursday morning the "cash Bundy was always on hand to "open the bank." On Thursday morning the "cash capital" was locked up as usual, together with some "outside" money, which "made the game" for Bundy the treasurer. Friday morning came, and one of the "outside" men wanted to use his money, but Bundy, the custodian of the safe key, could not be found. Nothing singular was thought of the matter, and he borrowed of his friends until "bank hours." Four, five, six o'clock came, and no sign of Bundy. The bank must be opened soon, and business commence, and finally becoming tired of warting, and thinking Bundy had gone on a lark, the services of a locksmith were engaged and the safe lock was forced. It was empty. The money was gone. Bundy doubtless had taken it. Since then nothing definite has been leard of him, but there is countiess had taken it. Since then nothing definite has been heard of him, but there is reason to believe that he is not far off, and that he did not leave on the steamer as was at first supposed. We crossed to the place afterwards, and found the man's body. He had four out of twelve musket balls, and one Enfield rifle ball—mine—as nine was the only ball fred. They all went through him—either of which would have killed him—mine through his breast. Thank God! I had done my duty for the poor fellow who fell beside me.

A PLEASANT CHOICE. - A. M. Feuillet was A PLEASANT CHOICE.—A. M. Feuillet was traveling in a steamboat at the time when an explosion took place. M. Feuillet was transfixed by an iron spit 7 feet long—the -pit went in at the abdomen and passed out at the back, so that there was 3 feet of the spit in front and 3 feet of the spit behind. M. Feuillet was conveyed to the nearest hotel. His position required all the resources of state agreeous was accordingly sent for who a surgeon was accordingly sent for, who on arriving felt the patient's pulse and asked him where he was suffering.

The patient thereupon detailed the sad accident of his being transfixed.

We have not a shadow of doubt but there will be numbers who will read our suggestions to-day about hog-raising, who will regret within one, two or three years in the mirthful mazes of the village dance, will regret within one, two or three years hence that they did not engage in it; and it is equally certain that most of those who may engage in the business this year will secure the foundation of a competency, if not a fortune. Let anyone count up the cost of a start in hog-rassing and bacon-curcost of a start in hog-raising and bacon-curing, and the probable annual increase and

THE LAST BURGLARY .- The robbery Odell's house, on Monday evening, was about as cool and impudent a transaction as any we re-member to have occurred here for some time. Mrs. Odell, it is said, had only left the house for a few moments, and on her return found that the lock of the back door had been forced and the door was swinging open. Proceeding to the bu-reau she discovered that the money—amounting tc a sum between $600 and $700—had been ab-The burglary must have been effected in the dark, and nothing but the money was disturbed; hence it is inferred that the thief knew exactly where the rich prize was hidden—that he possessed, in fact, the confidence of the family, and had obtained full knowledge of the position of affairs before he entered on the undertaking. venture to predict that if the rogue is ever captured he will not be found to belong to the organized gang of burglars long known to exist here. The Police, if they desire to see their efforts to ferret out the perpetrators of this burglary crowned with success, must look to higher game than regular cracksmen.

THE LATE COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS AT PORT TOWNSEND -Mr. Smith, late Collector of Customs at Port Townsend, we understand, has gone to Washington, where, his friends assert, he will be enabled to clear up the charges of defalcation and corruption which have been laid at his door within the past two or three weeks. The deficiency (or defalcation?) in the funds will reach, it is said, $15,000 or $17,000. Mr. Smith was formerly one of the editors of an Ohio paper, and received his appointment about a year ago from Mr. Lincoln. He was also Special Agent of the United States Covernment for the Pacific, and the duty of watch United States officials on this coast devolved on him. A waggish friend suggests tha he was so busied in watching that others did not steal that he forgot to perform the same service towards himself, and hence the deficiency in his own accounts. Joking aside, we sincerely hope, for many reasons, that Mr. Smith will be enabled show a clean record; but matters look dark ARRYIALS .- The back Fremont, 14 days from San Francisco, with 2 passengers 41 horses, 6 wagons and a small quantity of general merchan. dise, arrived in Esquimalt harbor yesterday morning. She came consigned to Pickett & Co., and reports seeing off the mouth of the Columbia river, on the 22d, the barks Monitor and Architect, and brig E. W. Howe, arrived last evening in 15 days from San Francisco with 70 passengers and a full cargo of merchandise. She is consigned to St. Ours & Co., at whose wharf she will discharge.

ARRIVAL OF THE "ENTERPRISE." -- The steamer Enterprise, Captain Mouat, arrived from New Westminster, at an early hour yesterday morning, with a small express and half-a-dozen passengers. Very few men remain at Lillooet and supplies are now going forward to the mines with regularity and in considerable quantity. Several pack-trains have left Lillooet for Cariboo. The camels have crossed Seaton Lake en route for the Brigade trail, over which they will be packed with provisions to Cariboo. So far they have there and work.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY .- The Speaker and Messrs" Ring and McDonald were the only members who answered (mentally) to roll call yesterday, at the proper hour, and the House was accordingly "counted out" and adjourned until to-day, at 3 p. m. The adjournment had hardly taken place when no less than seven honorables—who had no doubt "lunched" late—sauntered leisurelly up to They appeared much disappointed because of the adjournment.

"LUCKT JOE."-This incorrigible Indian thief -a brief account of whose career since his resi-dence in this town we published the other daywas discharged from custody on Monday for want of proof that he had stolen the property found in his possession. "Joe" had hardly got clear of the Barracks before a claimant appeared for the trav-eling-bag and other property, which had been stolen from Canvastown. "Joe" is accordingly etolen from Canvastown. "
"wanted" by the the Police.

TURNING THEM OUT .- The police seem determined to rid the town of every Indian man and woman sojournng within its limits, and to accomplish that end have warned them that they must leave with bag and baggage within the next twen-ty-four hours. Three small-pox patients, among the natives resident in the town, were discovered on Monday, and sent outside of the harbor.

FOR THE RIVER .- The steamer Eliza Anderson. with 75 passengers, 55 head of horses and mules and 20 tons of freight, left for New Westminster at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.... The steamer Enterprise, with fifty tons of freight a few head of live stock and 30 passengers, also left for the same destination at 11 o'clock.

DEAD BODY FOUND-" MURDER MOST FOUL. -About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the body of a man was found floating in the water, about 30 feet from the west shore of the harbor, at a point opposite the Songish Indian Lodge standing near-est the Hospital. Some Indians towed the body ing scornfully, replied, "Be I? then change ashore, when it was ascertained to be that of a your'n." ashore, when it was ascertained to be that of a man 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in heighth, and so far advanced in decomposition as to be unrecognizable. It had evidently lain in the water for some months. Around the neck of the corpse and across the mouth was tightly fastened a rope some 7 feet in length, to one end of which was a stone weighing nearly 25 pounds. In the mouth of deceased, and at the back of his neck, a small piece of shirt remained, a portion of which had evidently been remained, a portion of which had evidently been used as a gag to stifle the expiring cries of the victim before he was thrown into the water. A pair of blue pants was the only article of clothing found on the body. It is impossible to say at present whether the remains are those of a white man or an Indian, but there is no doubt that a foul murder has been committed, and that the rope and stone were used to sink the body, in order to hide the crime. The body was brought to the wharf by officers Jones and Smith, and boxed. A Coroner's inquest will be held this morning, at 11 o'clock, when all persons summoned as jurors are expected to be punctual, or a fine will be inflicted. In case the steamer should arrive, the jurors will meet, answer to their names, viow the body, and standajourned until to-morrow. The body will be exhibited for the purpose of identification at 11x o'clock its morning.

Central America as a Cotton Field.

Central America contains a greater area of cotton producing land than all the seceded States to gether, and the quality of the cotton is the best that is produced in any country. In the Southern States the cotton plant, an annual, is killed every year by the frosts, whereas in Central America it is perennial. The best variety, the anguilla, commercially known as the Sea Island, is a maive of Honduras, and was introduced into South Carolina shortly after the Revolution. The central America is equal to that grown in Jamaica, South Carolina or Florida, and superior to the best productions of India or Egypt. The yield per acre is more than double that of the Southern States, tiere being two cr. ps. a year. The soil is almost inexhautable, the climate deligatful and labor cieap. On the Pacific coast there are extensive plateaux, which are only waiting the attention of the careful and thrity planter; and the forest trees of that portion which would need to be cleared are such as always find a ready market a renumerative prices in the Northern States and Western Europe, such as mahogany, cedar and Brazil wood. The climate of Central America, though warm, is not oppressive; it is not so debiliating as to prevent white men form engaging in active out-door employment. It is exceedingly healthy. Free labor is abundant and cheap. There are no slaves, and the services of the natives can be procured at the average rate of twenty-five cents (1s. S.d.) per head per day. This is less than one-half the cost of slave lator in the cotton districts of the South.—London American. (1s. 1sd.) per head per day. This is less than one-half the cost of slave labor in the cotton districts of the South.—London American.

THE AUSTRIAN PRINCE WINDISCHGRATZ

HIS DEATH — Recent advices from Europe mention the death of the Austrian Prince Windischgratz. He was some time Gene-rallissimo of the Austrian troops and had maintenance of the Austrian troops and had been barded more capital cities than any commander of his time. He was descended from Wallenstein and of account of his high aristocratical manners, he carned the title of the first Austrian gentleman." He was an absolutist in politics, and shortly after the breaking out of the liberal movements with provisions to Cariboo. So far they have proved a success. The steamer Marzelle, on Anderson Lake, has been found too small for the accommodation of the freight and passengers seeking transportation over the Harrison-Lilloot route, and a new steamer will be commenced so soon as hands can be found willing to remain there and work. driving the Hungarians before him, and was extelled by the Absolutists as the greatest general in Europe. When the Mungarians overed themselves, and in turn drove him and his army beyond their frontier, he was superseded, and those who had before extolled him to the clouds, now abused him while the people exulted in the fall of the harsh and blood-stained aristocrat. He will be remembered only as the man who descreaded by the control of th troyed some of the most flourishing cities of Germany, who murdered Robert Blum, one of the ablest and most patriotic men in the Frankfort Parliament, who suppressed news-papers and administered masket balls to a large number of unhappy editors.

Use of Alcohol.—Glancing back over the many years since the testotal question has been forced upon the author by his pro-fessional duties, he may estimate that he has been noted by the second of the second o thousands in perfect health. Wishing, and even expecting, to find it otherwise, he is obliged to confess that he has hitherto met with but very few perfectly healthy middleaged persons successfully pursuing any arduous metropolitan calling under teetotal habits. On the other hand, he has known many total abstainers whose apparently sound constitutions have given way with unusual and frightful rapidity when attacked by casual disease; and many more who,
with the strongest resolution and inclination to abstain from alcohol, have been obliged to resume its moderate use from reasons no less valid and imperious than those which 1800 years ago induced an inspired Saint to prescribe it for a Teetotal Bishop.—Dr. Brenton on Food. with but very few perfectly healthy middle ton on Food.

Man Killed for Five Bits.—A colored man, named Forest M, Hill, was killed in Sacramento, by B. Easterbrook (white). It appears from the testimony of the witness that the parties was neighbors, and that difference had arisen between them in regard to five bits. Easterbrook shot Hill with a pistol, which is presumed to have been purchased for the occasion.—S. F. Call.

Holloway's Pills are undeniably the finest Medicine in the world for Biliousness and Indigestion. In all cases of deranged stomach, determination of blood to the head, bile, sick headache, liver and stomach complaints, there is no medicine known that will give such immediate relief as these renowned Pills; young and old, rich or poor, patronise them, and so many cures are effected by their use, I at their praise is sounded from the temperate climate to the frigid zone; in truth, persons who travel consetr them a necessary requisions. temperate cumate to the frigin zone; in truth, persons who travel consider them a necessary requisite. During the overland journey to India, the blood becomes overheated, the liver torpid, the skin covered with prickly heat, and the whole system languid and exhausted. Nothing so soon gives relief as Holloway's Pills.

BILIOUS APPECTIONS—Are speedily removed by the use of Dr. D. Jayne's Sanative Pills. The test of 30 years' use has proved them superior to all other remedies for the cure of the various discases for which they are recommended. In their action they are mild and certain, and may be taken at any time without risk from exposure, and on this account they are invaluable to the miner, as they may be taken without necessitating a discontinuance of work, even though the latter should be in the winter.
